

NEW SILK ROADS RESEARCH

Dr Vanaja Karagiannidis obtained her Doctor of Business Administration from Victoria University; MEd and BEd Studies from University of Melbourne. She is a Fellow of the Institute of Managers and Leaders; and an active member of the Australian Board of Directors.

Dr Karagiannidis has been in the educational sector for thirty years amongst Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology (RMIT) mainly in 'Strategic Management', and in 'Analysis and Decision Making' mainly in value-chain-processes (locally: Australia, China and Singapore Institute of Technology); Swinburne University in (Management and Marketing); Victoria University mainly 'Austral-Asia Business Environment', and 'Business Clusters' for Indonesian Delegates. At Federal University, she taught 'Strategic Management' and 'Research Methodologies' and Strategic Changes. She has followed education as a totally government-funded sector to semi-government funded sector and moving forward into totally funded learning and teaching by private providers. Dr Karagiannidis is much focused in learners' centric engagement, with pedagogical and andragogic learning a combination of Confucianism and Socrates concepts.

Dr Karagiannidis is at times (through word-of mouth) a small-medium 'Business Consultant' and has published a paper in the College Quarterly about Summer School teaching and learning. She has published two chapters for an E- 'Marketing Case-Book' for the main author Dr Henry Ho. She wrote article in network with Ather Saeed. However, her speciality is in the triple 'Cs' (cooperation, coordination and collaboration) of strategic alliances for profit and non-profit organisations.
